WEATHER FORECAST FOR THIRTY-SIX HOURS, BEGINNING AT 8 A. M. TO-DAY, FOR MISSOURI.

Fair; variable winds.

No material change has occurred in weather conditions in the past twenty-four hours. The area of rain and snow is still confined to the Northeastern States, while fair weather prevails elsewhere.

It is considerably warmer in the extreme lower part of the Valley, except at New Orleans, no marked change elsewhere.

Weather forecast for thirty-six hours, beginning at 8 A. M. to-day, for St. Louis: Fair; slightly warmer.

Is THE doctor who makes a typhoid diagnosis entitled to a larger fee than the physician who says it’s “malaria”?

IF, as a contemporary states, the President-elect killed fifty snipe at one shot he has not arisen from any sudden and transitory outburst of popular discontent, but has been for months slowly developing into a condition which now demands the most adroit and careful treatment, taxing the powers of the coolest and wisest of the Republic’s statesmen.

IT is very gratifying to know that Speaker Crisp has a good opinion of Mr. Cleveland. Great men are so apt to belittle one another.

THE savages of North Dakota make less progress than any other Indians in America. In the recent election they voted for Benjamin Harrison.

FOR so young a State Wyoming has a rather large supply of political rascals. The immigration to Wyoming must have greatly benefited some of the older States.

THE letter-carriers and their friends will be deeply interested in the prize contest to be inaugurated in next SUNDAY’S POST-DISPATCH and which is outlined in another column.

IF William Henry Harrison Miller wants to perpetuate the name of William Henry Harrison Miller, why doesn’t he tackle the trusts? It isn’t possible that Benjamin Harrison is holding him back.

ALFRED DE ROTHSCHILD may possibly have suggested a collusive scheme in which the plain people will not get the small end of the horn, but if so he has done a rare thing for a hereditary capitalist.

THE appeal for a permanent census office would command more hearers if it were made by some statistician other than Mr. Porter. The country has very little confidence in Mr. Porter or his figures.

IT is now asserted that Mr. Harrison has lost money by being President. He hasn’t lost as much, by a good deal, as the people who have had to pay for the management of the Government on the Harrison plan.

EX-SENATOR INGALLS is about to resume his lecturing. There will doubtless be a flocking of Republicans when he opens, as he may have an explanation of the what-do-you-call-it that happened on the 8th inst.

ACCORDING to the sworn statement filed by the committee it cost more than $40,000 to elect a rich man, named Rich, Governor of Michigan. This is a high price for a Western State, and indicates the prevalence of Indiana ideas.

THE snipes taken by the new President have long bills, but the bills of the Republican snipes who have been running the Government under Mr. Harrison are much longer. And these latter Mr. Cleveland will find it much harder to deal with.

SUSPENDING immigration from all except North and South American countries will be a great inconvenience to immigrants. They will have to land in the Canadas or in some of the South American States and come in from the direction of those regions.

THE Republican press is very indignant at Mr. Cleveland’s compliment to the South as “the cradle and guardian of civil liberty in America.” There may be objections to this as a sweeping and sober statement, but as a compliment it is unexceptionable. Anyhow it is pleasant to hear a Northern man utter something milder than curses when speaking of the South.

THE city water has been exonerated by the chemists, but that should not be used as a pretext to delay the abatement of nuisances. Nothing short of the total suppression of the Lowell abomination will satisfy the righteous demand for good sanitary conditions.

A BOAT in Macinaw Inlet, containing five persons on their way to bore Mr. Cleveland, was upset and all would have been drowned but for the life-savers. Citizens with axes to grind will perceive from this how dangerous it is to seek our next President before the 4th of March.

IN advocating the re-election of Senator Mills the WORLD speaks not only for Democrats, but for thousands of independent men who recognize him as one of the ablest and best informed tariff reformers. He is needed in the Senate at this time more than ever, and happily his return is practically assured.

THE people who daily inhale the worst odors of Lowell declare that they do not suffer from them now. It was only at that death seemed certain. The torture of malaria is raging and is claiming hundreds of victims every day. The timeliness and value of the POST-DISPATCH’s warning is manifest and press and people are united in demanding that the work which should have been done long ago shall now be done.

REPUBLICAN newspapers which are howling about the alleged technicality by which Russell of Massachusetts gets another term in the Governor’s office forget that such logic would give the electoral vote of Ohio to Cleveland. Are they willing to trade?

THE candidacy of J. Sterling Morton for United States Senator from Nebraska as a Democrat with Republican support suggests the necessity of choosing Senators by popular election in that State. Railroad attorneys have no show there except in the Legislature.

THEIR is a general impression that next to rate of crime the terror of woman’s existence is the next. But this impression must be wrong. A lady bull-fighter recently appeared at Piedras Negras, and exhibited so much agility in thrashing at the enraged bulls and avoiding their horns, that the show was considered a great success. Feminine courage may be developing more than we have supposed. Much has been doing in the female world in the past twenty years. A woman of strength and courage may be the protector of eight men. Is not Mary Lease “standing in the middle of the road” in Kansas at this moment? and is not the daring female fighter of bulls at Piedras Negras to give further exhibitions of her nerve?

THE DANGER OF FRANCE.

The crisis in France is probably more serious than is generally supposed. It has not arisen from any sudden and transitory outburst of popular discontent, but has been for months slowly developing into a condition which now demands the most adroit and careful treatment, taxing the powers of the coolest and wisest of the Republic’s statesmen.

The controversy over clerical and labor questions, which have been the absorbing topics of French politics, has suddenly subsided in the presence of the Panama Canal scandal, which grows in proportions as its discussion progresses, and like the infernal characters on the scmetar of Vathec changes with each perusal and each time into words of more sinister import.

It is now stated that as many as 200 Deputies are strongly suspected of having received bribes, while large sums have been distributed to other persons of influence, including bankers and journalists, both in and out of France.

There is no question of the fact that the Loubet Ministry have used every effort to suppress or postpone a disclosure of the facts. It was not until M. Delahaye ascended the Tribune and boldly charged that many millions of dollars which should have been applied to the construction of the canal had been diverted for corrupt purposes that the Ministry yielded to the demand for an investigation. Whether this reluctance on the part of the Prime Minister arose from the fact that his colleagues were involved and his Ministry might be shattered by the disclosures, or whether he realized that the frauds would prove so widespread and gigantic that the existence of the Republic would be imperiled, remains to be seen. When we recall the fact that France has had as many as seventeen constitutions since the volcanic upheavals of 1789, and that the present Republic has been more than once rudely shaken by the violence of political factions the latter supposition seems the more plausible as well as the more charitable.

The friends of France will, however, hope for the best, whatever the results of the prosecutions may be. The Republic has existed for nearly twenty years, and under it the people have enjoyed a degree of prosperity far surpassing that of any other period in the history of the country. An enormous war debt has been paid without seriously impairing the resources of the nation; the army has been reorganized and recruited, and has reached a degree of efficiency which has excited both the surprise and dread of rival nations; the navy has been greatly strengthened and increased; commerce has been extended; new colonies have been founded and the boundaries of old ones enlarged; the confidence and spirit of the nation have been restored, and the country fairly started on a career of unprecedented achievement and of the most brilliant possibilities.

It is likely these considerations will be sufficient to prevent revolution or any serious departure from existing governmental forms. Certainly there is small opportunity for any upstart aspirant to a throne, and the experiences of Boulanger will likely deter any effort at a coup d’etat.

The efforts of Boulanger, who would suggest that he not let these local women, who have a willing arm and a true heart, come forward to help continued prosperity the conservative elements have strengthened and are doubtless now sufficiently powerful to prevent this peril.

THE DISEASE BREEDING NUISANCES.

More than a year ago, before they was any fear of cholera or any evidence of a typhus epidemic the POST-DISPATCH started a crusade against the Lowell nuisances. It warned the city officials that they were a constant menace to the public health. The whole nuisance district was inspected and mapped, the dangerous places were pointed out and ways and means of abating the nuisances were discussed.

PRESIDENT MCLEOD of the Reading Coal Combines made some remarkable statements before the investigating committee yesterday which can hardly be reconciled with current belief on economic questions. He declared that without a combine the coal market would be glutted and prices advanced “higher than they are now.”

Further, that such a combination is all that keeps up wages of miners. This kind of talk sounds much like sarcasm indulged in to show his contempt for the committee.

Searing Little School-Children.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I to-day had my attention called to a matter that I think should be published. Mr. T. living on Tenth, near Market street, sends his little boy to the Elliott School, Fifteenth and Walnut. Last week the teacher told the parents that the child was not to stand still, but to move about, and that he should stand still, and burn everything up. This made such an impression on the little boy (just three years) that he went home and told his mother, “I’m not going to school Saturday and Saturday night he clings to his paper and seemed fearless of leaving him alone.”

He is old enough to teach school and common sense ought not to frighten little children in this way.

What good would it result in telling him little about it? I think that we think the person at fault deserves a reprimand from the school Board.

Railway Bills in the Council.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

Some time ago there was published in all the papers a statement that the Railroad Committee of the City Council had made a favorable report on the City Central Railway bill.

The City Central Railway system would connect our section of St. Louis with the South by a direct route, and for one fare, we would be greatly elated over the prospect of getting to the South without the trouble of our present railway facilities, but we see two bills reported by the same committee that cover nearly all the desirable territory, and that we are not sure which to pass these two bills and so destroy the City Central?

Come to me to ask the Council, through the Forum, to pass the City Central bill, as that bill alone promises to give North and south St. Louis a one-fare transfer system.

NORTH END.

A Physician’s Opinion.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I wish to raise my voice in denunciation of the news that causes alarm which is being created around to typhoid fever. I deny most emphatically that there is any occasion for such an outcry and a grave injustice is being done to those who are suffering from typhoid fever existing here. It is usual at this time of year. It is true there are large numbers of patients suffering with remittent fevers and recurring fevers, and I am not sure as to there being an unusual amount of typhoid fever I most emphatically deny it.

Contractors Need Not Apply.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I see time and again the names of various contractors mentioned for the mayoralty contest in the coming spring election, also for President of the City Council. The general public in all parts of the city, Democrats and Republicans alike, think it very bad policy to have anything to do with any contractor at this present day, or at least until the new City Hall is built. A contractor, in general, has no business seeking public office.

JOHN SNELLING.

Fireless Car Stoves.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

The owners of the Union Depot Railroad Co. are doing a gross injustice to the people who live along their respective lines and to the contractors who come to do business.

One From Joplin.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch:

I notice in your People’s Forum of yesterday’s issue that some rascaldom is being done by a young woman of wide intelligence, “let me have it” to furnish such facts to history. There should be a general understanding among the girls about these long engagements. A feminine combine to fix the limit would be a great protection to faithful young women.

Henry S. Ives, the Wall street rascal whose term in Congress had just expired, has been married to a charming young woman of wide intelligence, “let me have it” to furnish such facts to history. There should be a general understanding among the girls about these long engagements. A feminine combine to fix the limit would be a great protection to faithful young women.

Mrs. LEASE will not be in Belvoir Woods’s way as a presidential candidate. She is a native of Ireland and therefore ineligible.

Mrs. Lockwood will breathe easier now. So will the rest of the American nation.

FEMALE FIRE-BUG.

Incendiary Attempt on a Cincinnati Grocery Store.

SIXTY PEOPLE'S LIVES IMPERILED BY THE BLAZE.

Two Men Shot by a Drunken Tough-Rough-and-Tumble Fight That Will Lead to a Duel—Burglars Neatly Bagged—Extensive Forgeries Discovered in Minneapolis—Crime News.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 30.—At 2 o'clock this morning fire was discovered in a grocery store kept by Mrs. Elizabeth Levi. The damage was repaired promptly, and after much difficulty, took from the building six people, who were sleeping when the fire was discovered. The fire was a very dangerous one. After the flames had been extinguished examination was made and developments of a startling character were brought to light. Early last evening Mrs. Levi left home to attend a ball, leaving her daughter in charge of the store. The young lady left the building about 9 o'clock, after having evidently made careful preparation for burning the house. Waste, saturated with coal oil, was found in the drawers and other places about the store, and in each pile of waste was a lighted candle so placed and timed that the flame would reach the oil-saturated waste about 2 o'clock. That far the plan was successful and only the vigilance of a police officer in discovering the fire saved the building and its inmates. The daughter cannot be found, but Mrs. Levi has been arrested. It is, however, too hypothetical to make statements about what she has said confirms these statements. The place was heavily insured.

CRIME NEWS.

DEATH SENTENCE HINGING ON A SUIT FOR DIVORCE.

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 30.—In the case of Wm. T. Roberts vs. Mary Roberts the Court of Appeals has decided that the divorce granted by the lower court is void. Roberts is under sentence of death for the murder of Henry Knippl. An appeal for a new trial is now pending in the Supreme Court. Mary Roberts, by this decision, is entitled to a divorce from the condemned man, and as such is not privileged to testify against her husband. It was on her evidence that Roberts was convicted, and an appeal from that decision was filed. The proof that Roberts committed the deed, the decision will have an important bearing upon the appeal pending in the Supreme Court. The probability is that with Mrs. Roberts' testimony stricken from the records the charge of murder cannot be proved.

AN INSANE CRIMINAL.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 30.—The unknown person who is knifing cattle to death in unusual and horrible ways killed another fine animal during last night, owned by Clarence L. Powell, Vice-President of a brick company. The dozen or more cattle on his farm, that had been slaughtered within a radius of one mile and must have been killed by a man or men who eat horse flesh, as was the majority of the men, was not thought to have been reached. There may be another chapter added to the dueling history of Georgia.

A DUEL EXPECTED.

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 30.—Mr. Jas. G. Wood, who was defeated a few days ago before the city primary for Mayor, and Mr. Joel Hart, President of the Atlanta Consolidated Street Railway Co., had a rough-and-tumble fight in the State-house today. Both were armed with sticks and knives. Two watches and two silver watches were found in their possession. Johnson said at the station that he would have shot Walsh to a stop.

A PIPER LINE WAR.

ELIZWOOD, Ind., Nov. 30.—Another sensation resulted in connection with the gas war in this city yesterday afternoon. John Hines, a laborer of the piper line, was shot while working in the trench, by Deputy Constable Lew Haines. Hines was resisting arrest on a charge of trespass placed against him in common with other employees on the pipe line by the District Supervisor.

CARDED KNIVES.

COLD SPRINGS, Tex., Nov. 30.—An old feed wagon existed between two prominent farmers, M. F. Jones and R. T. Bryant, and yesterday it culminated. Bryant drove past Jones' home and daubed him with paint. Jones, who was in a minority of the men, was not thought to have been reached. There may be another chapter added to the dueling history of Georgia.

ASSASSINATION.

FURNIS, Miss., Nov. 30.—A negro named Clinton Springer was assassinated at his home here Monday night. He was filled with buckshot while standing in the door of his dwelling. There is no clew.

CRIME BREVITIES.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 30.—A horrible story of parental depravity comes from Clarksville. George Jenkins, a farmer of that city, is arrested, charged with ruining his own daughter, Miss Alice Jenkins, who is now about 30 years old. Alice married a young man named Wash Collier, who discovered she was a common woman. This discovery led to the exposure of the father's awful crime. Jenkins is married, and has, heretofore, borne a good reputation. It is said that his wife killed him, but concealed it through fear of her husband. Both are now in jail at Morgantown. The girl says her father maintained an intimacy with her since she was 12 years old.

SHOT TWO MEN.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Nov. 30.—Charles Brethen, a street car conductor, was shot by the influence of liquor last night, shot George Kellar, cashier of the Monroe Bottling Co., and Michael Montague, a drayman. Kellar was shot through the chest and will probably die. Montague had his right elbow shattered and his forearm broken. Both were thrown out. He went to a second-hand store and bought a rayonet and then went back and began shooting. He was captured, but escaped, being lynched before being locked up.

WERA AWAY IN JAIL.

GENEVA, Ill., Nov. 30.—Vera P. Ays, alias Ann Odette, or the "Spook Princess" of New York, languishes behind the jail bars, charged with stealing $750. The prosecuting witness in the case is Mrs. John Mitten, a widow of Elgin. She became infatuated with the alleged Princess, who informed her that her

WARNED IN A DREAM.

Strange Circumstance Attending the Fatal Burning of Miss Moorehead.

A strange instance of a dream coming as a premonition of death and foretelling also the manner of death is apparently brought to light by a tragedy of last Sunday forenoon when Miss Moorehead of No. 310 Lucas avenue lost her life by her clothing catching fire from the flames from an open grate in front of which she was sitting. The young lady was alone at the time, and was amusing herself playing the banjo when her dress caught fire. Almost immediately the fire covered from head to foot. Her screams brought the servant girl, Mrs. Maggie Harris, and leave the city at once. Harris recently came here, and the young girl had been engaged to him to marry to the lady, claiming that he meant to defraud her out of her property.

AFTER A HOLLOWEN'S NECK.

SYDNEY, N. J., Nov. 30.—Wm. Maher, the alleged wife poisoner, was placed on trial yesterday in the District Court. Last night the sheriff received word that a mob had been organized to lynch the prisoner. A strong guard has been placed around the court-house and jail, and will be maintained until the trial is over. A large sum of money was offered to the effect that a mob is likely to gather and proceed to this place at any time.

BURGLARS BAGGED.

NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 30.—Frank Johnson and Thomas Burk, New York crooks, were arrested last night by several officers in the person of W. E. Bradner, an electrician, at 361 Market street. Johnson placed a revolver at the head of Officer Walsh, but Officer Caffey caused his arm in time to save Walsh's life. The two men were captured, and a revolver and two silver watches were found in their possession. Johnson said at the station that he would have shot Walsh to a stop.

Afraid of Her Breath.

A bad breath spoils the beauty of a Venus.

There is a way to cure this affliction. It arises from a disordered stomach. Read what the celebrated Doctor Hoffmeyer said before the Medical Society of London:

"The unnatural motions of the stomach, causing pressure and belching, the irritation of the intestines, resulting in catarrh of the bowels, and the inflamed mucous membranes, are the most fruitful of all known causes of disease.

"I have found that the unnatural motions of the stomach cease, the intestinal trouble becomes less, and health and strength are restored.

"The great secret of health is to have a well-tempered stomach.

"I have found that the best way to do this is to take a glass of beer, a cup of coffee or tea, or, in fact, any drink that will not irritate the stomach, and will effect a speedy cure.

"The best drink for this purpose is beer.

DELLACELLA SUED.

Miss Badaracco Wants $10,000 From the Columbian Festivities Manager.

RESULT OF A ROW BETWEEN THE YOUNG LADY AND MRS. DELLACELLA.

Miss Badaracco Went to Dellacella's to Find Out Why Her Bill Had Not Been Allowed and, According to Her Story, Was Knocked Down and Jumped On—Dellacella Talks.

"I called Mr. Stephen Dellacella a liar and Mrs. Dellacella slapped me in the face and kicked me and I am not ashamed I did it," said Miss Teresa Badaracco to Post-Dispatch reporter this morning when asked why she had sued the Dellacella for $10,000 damages.

This pleasant little interchange of civilities grew out of the late Columbian Festivities Celebration. Miss Teresa, who keeps the flower store on Olive street, opposite the Exposition, was engaged by the Italian societies to decorate Liederkrantz Hall and also the statue of Columbus in Tower Grove Park on the 21st of last October. Her bill was $12 and she claims that at a meeting recently held by the Italians at which Mr. Dellacella presided he made the statement that she was in no hurry to pay him.

"Was he the Treasurer?"

"Oh, he was the High Commander er, Grand Cavalier, President and everything, and thought he would just impose on me because I had no father or brother to take up for me."

"But how did Mrs. Dellacella come to be a-suitant you?"

"I went down to his hotel on Fourth and Olive street on the 15th of this month to see him about his statement and collect the money due me. He was not there and I told Mrs. Dellacella what I thought of him and she hit him so hard which was very unkind-like; don't you think so?"

"Was that all?"

"I was, that's all that I thought. I think the insult was terrible and I know the law will protect me," and Miss Teresa turned to sell a lady a dozen of white roses.

Stephen Dellacella when seen at the new Everett House on Olive street below Fourth and Post street, yesterday, said that he was not prepared as yet to reply to Miss Badaracco's charges. "I have not seen the allegations," he said, "and don't know what you are talking about. I am not going to say anything about the whole thing a lie. No such assault as I understand she alleges was ever made."

"Did Miss Badaracco come to the hotel to see you about the bill for decorating the hall?"

"I believe she did come here but I was not here."

"Your wife was here and she could tell you, couldn't she?"

"Yes, she can tell me."

"Isn't she here now?"

"Yes, but not for that purpose. I have told you all about it at this time. Let the young lady put all she wants in the paper. I can stand it, and when I get ready to open my bank to you all again, I will do so."

"Let this be understood that if Miss Badaracco recovers on her suit we will get her money, pay all bills and expenses and will not be liable for any trouble she may get into. This young woman has got no banana-peeler or fishmonger to back her up. I am sure I will not want to do, but it is a woman I mean to proceed slowly."

Mrs. Dellacella also declined to

"A Woman's Remedy for Woman's Ills, founded not upon the theory of a man, but upon twenty years' practice and experience of a woman."
